

What's Next for Cake Wallet and Monero.com

Other than more flight interruptions, hopefully

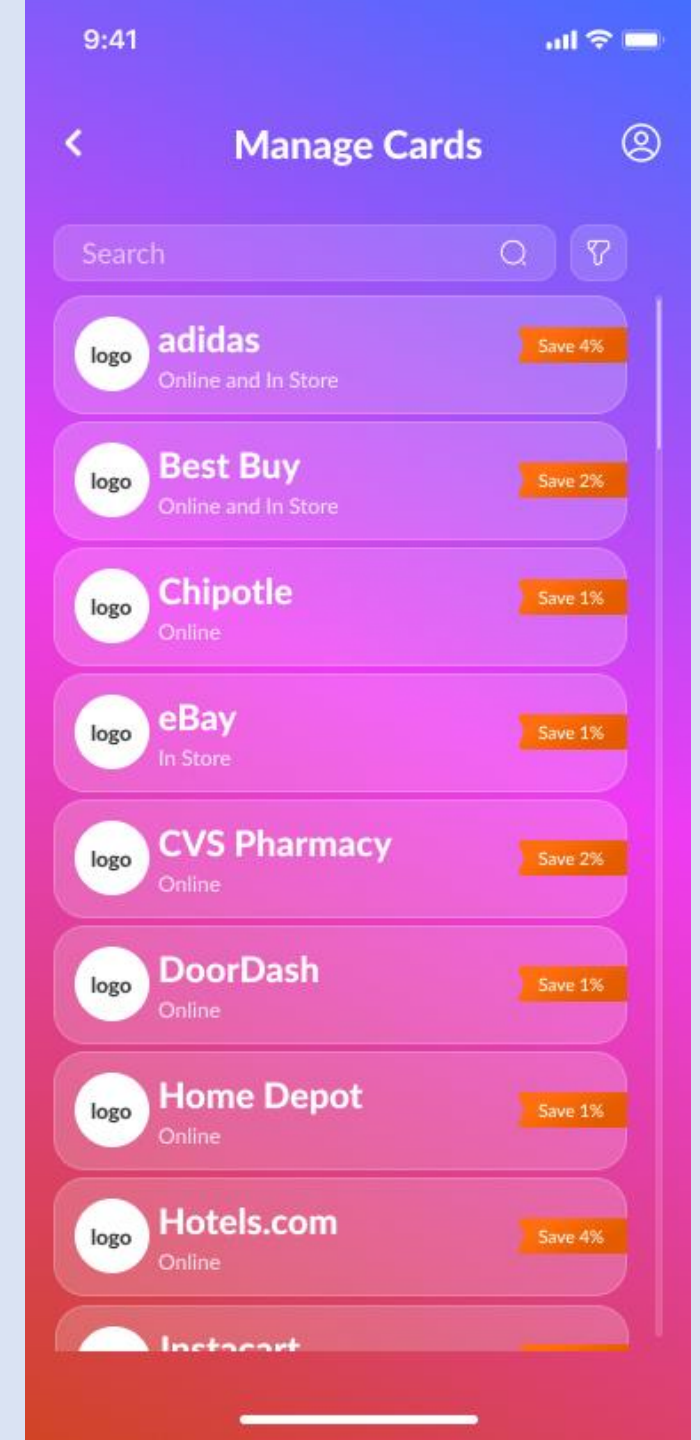

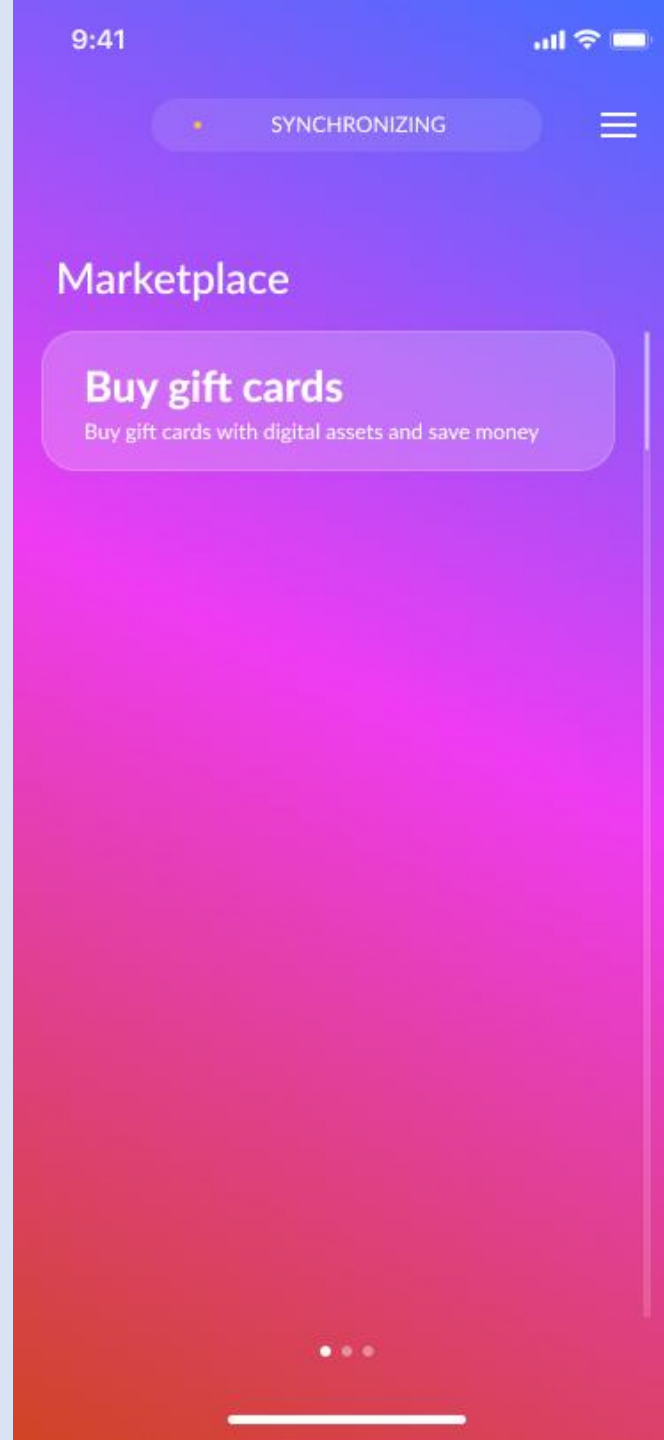

We notice people, you know, use XMR. A lot.

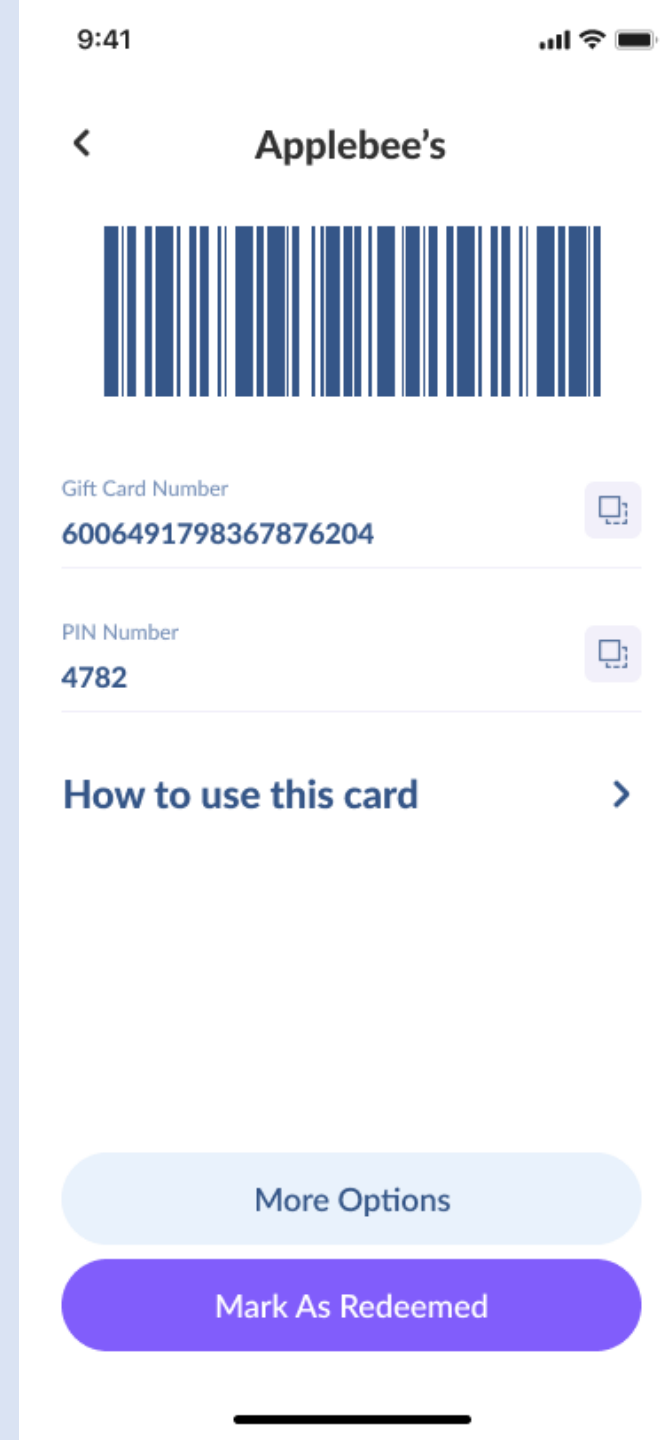

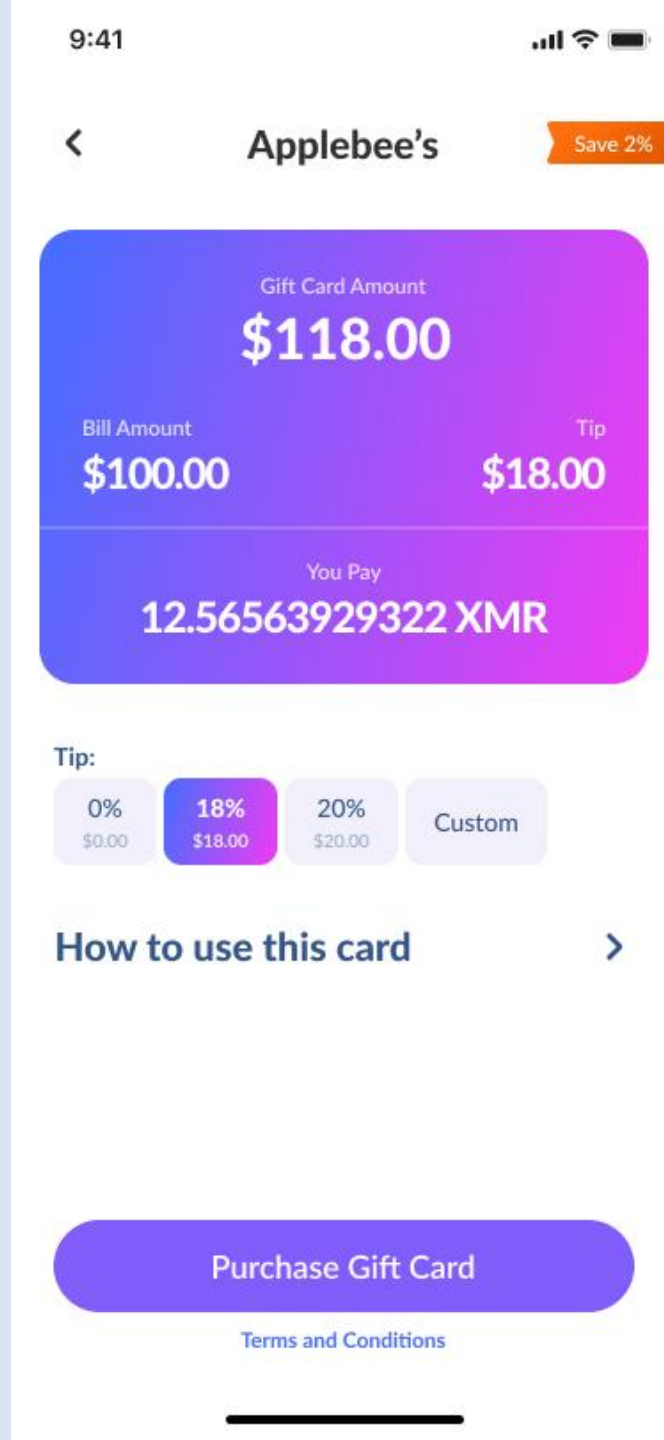

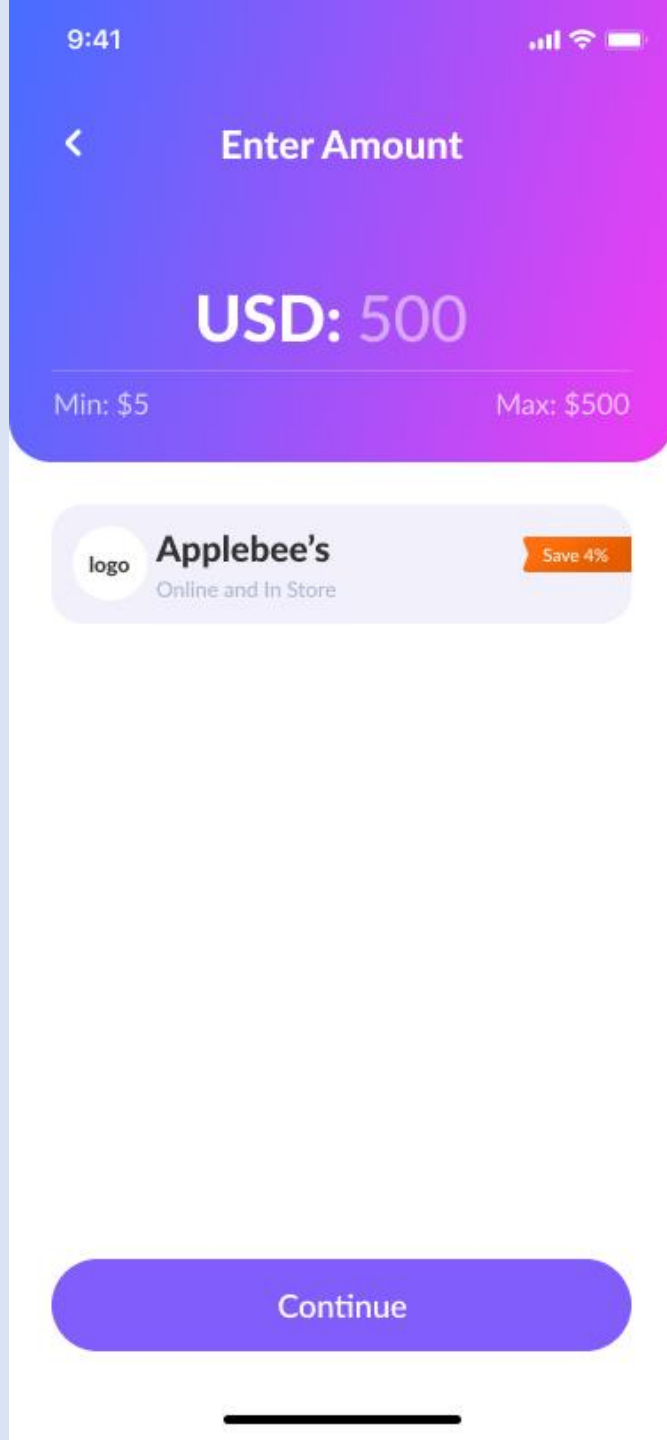

- Stablecoins and Monero have become some of the most-used digital assets for purchases
- There's a core, growing community of people centered around Cake Wallet and Monero.com who use Monero for payments
- We saw open-source project donations take off in 2021 and merchant adoption take off 2022
- People download Cake Wallet and Monero.com to transact Monero, not just trade it. This is a very different focus versus most other wallets

What we've been working on

- Gift card marketplace, available for XMR, BTC, LTC
- Exchange Auto router
- All sorts of other stuff of course 😊

Just the start of our marketplace

- We want to make it as easy as Cake to spend XMR on services you care about
- We're excited about our gift cards, though this is just the beginning!
- What merchants do you want included? What else do you want to see?

Exchange Auto router

1 Select the exchanges you want to use

A screenshot of the Exchange Auto router interface. It shows a list of exchanges with checkboxes next to them. The first four checkboxes are checked, and the last one is unchecked.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Blockbuy
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ChangeNOW
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Sideshift AI
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Another New Provider
<input type="checkbox"/>	Another New Provider

2 We query the quotes

3 You get the best rate automatically!

Exchange Auto router

This will increase reliability and liquidity from more services, and it will result in the best exchange rates at no additional effort

Expect this feature to launch this quarter (takes a lot of testing)

Thank you!
